Annual Conference Scores BIG!

In all respects, the NGEAO Annual Conference was a huge success! From the 350 attendees, to the high caliber seminars, to the sporting events, food and prizes, it was a BIG hit.

Our industry sponsors have continued with their strong sponsorship, allowing the organization to raise $37,500 after conference expenses to be given to Oklahoma College and University students in Energy Management Programs in the form of scholarships. This effort allows NGEAO to create a strong relationship with the educational institutions and develop future leaders and talented individuals who will make the oil and gas industry their career choice.

Special thanks to all the Annual Conference Sponsors!

NGEAO Welcomes 2014 President

NGEAO would like to welcome the newly elected 2014 President, Tracy Holmes. Tracy Holmes is Sr. Scheduling Manager of NGL Marketing at Enable Midstream Partners. President Rains Ends Term with Praise for Members

Dear NGEAO colleagues:

Another eventful year is coming to a close and I'd like to thank everyone for the privilege of working on your behalf. The 2013 board has worked hard to advance the NGEAO initiatives this year and in November rolled out an additional (5) $2000 individual scholarships for energy management students. When you add the individual scholarships along with our longstanding support for the OU, OSU and Tulsa energy management programs brings your NGEAO scholarship support to over $45K annually.

From the first luncheon in January through the April clay shoot and continuing through the record setting September Educational conference you and your companies' have supported our efforts with your time and financial support. I'm confident that the 2014 board led by Tracy Holmes will continue to set new standards for our organization. I would ask that you continue to support NGEAO and our continued efforts to "clear a path for others to follow." Thanks again.
