Annual Conference Preparation

Looking forward to the 2014 NGEAO annual conference, excitement builds. This year the Hard Rock Hotel and Conference Center in Catoosa, Oklahoma will play host once again. This is a chance to grow and expand professional goals. The atmosphere provided by the annual conference is one where individuals can interact outside of the office, participate in team building exercises and get the chance to listen to world-class speakers.

Building off a successful conference last year, NGEAO looks to extend its footprint throughout the industries presented by our organization. The past enables our organization to see and recognize the growth happening. As we move forward, NGEAO could not be more excited to welcome the numerous guest speakers to the 2014 annual conference. The annual conference is a time to reflect and understand that our organization would not stand as tall as it does today if it were not for the speakers that pour into our members.

As with any big event we host, we encourage everyone to sign up as quickly as possible to ensure you and your team is accommodated. The 2014 conference looks to grow and expand on last year's success. We will notify all of our members with timely emails serving as reminders and updates concerning this year's NGEAO annual conference. The 2014 conference looks to extend some of same exciting outings, such as the annual golf tournament. For everyone who doesn't golf, there are always exciting poker and bowling events. Everyone apart of NGEAO is extremely excited about what the future holds. Our goal is to provide the necessary tools and atmosphere for our members to grow. We hope you will join us for the conference held this September in Catoosa.

Clay Shoot Recap

We would like to take a moment and recognize the volunteers, attendees and sponsors that made this event possible. With great weather, all of the participants were able to practice gun safety while drawing upon some friendly competition.

Through our wonderful sponsors, NGEAO was able to give away five rifles, two shotguns and two Yeti coolers. Events such as this one exemplifies NGEAO's commitment to provide atmospheres that promote team building and continued professional networking.

Lifetime Achievement Award

Jennifer Greenwell has been an NGEAO member for 16 years. Her introduction to the oil and gas industry happened about 25 years ago when Jennifer answered a want ad in the Tulsa World for an accounting/data-entry position with LB Jackson Drilling. Since that time, her career has grown with each of her roles: accounting, gas balancing, scheduling, marketing and contract negotiation. Jennifer has been employed by Nadel and Gussman, LLC for 13 years. Nadel and Gussman is an independent oil and gas producer founded in 1935 and based in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Jennifer attributes her successes to a willingness to learn something new and to take on additional responsibilities. She continues to do both.

Over the years Jennifer's up-front and honest personality has drawn many people towards her. It was those qualities that shone through at her first NGEAO board meeting 16 years ago. As a result, one of her initial impacts as an NGEAO board member was our monthly membership meetings, scheduled during the lunchtime hour, to foster education and networking for our part of the industry. As a part of this initiative, NGEAO began to impact its members in a greater and more efficient manner. The impact from these meetings can be felt through NGEAO's services, such as scholarships and education.

Jennifer has shown stability and passion throughout her career and continued contributions to NGEAO. In moments like these, our organization takes a step back and recognizes the achievements of an extraordinary member and friend. She has made a heart-felt impact on this organization and the careers of countless individuals. We would like to thank Jennifer for her continued service to NGEAO!
